WHY ATTEND?

Outstanding Reception classrooms don't happen by chance. They are carefully planned before children arrive.
This session provides practical guidance to help leaders and practitioners prepare language-rich environments, organise effective provision and establish consistent routines that promote communication, reading and writing from day one.

WHY IT MATTERS

Children who experience consistent routines, purposeful talk and high-quality literacy experiences from the start of Reception are better equipped to become confident readers and writers. Careful preparation allows practitioners to maximise learning from the very first day.

YOU WILL EXPLORE:

- Preparing enabling environments
- Planning language-rich routines
- Organising books and phonics provision
- Early assessment and identifying need
- Building strong foundations for reading and writing
